ANCIENT WISDOM & INNOVATIVE TECHNOLOGY

To find out more about the idea behind the Big Green Egg we have to travel back in time for many centuries. More than 3,000 years ago, kamado cookers were already used in East Asia as traditional, wood-fired clay ovens. This type of cooking was embraced by the Japanese, who lovingly referred to it as ‘kamado’, meaning oven or fireplace. American soldiers discovered the kamado in Japan at the beginning of the previous century and took it home as a souvenir. In the course of time, the ancient model was further refined in Atlanta (Georgia, USA) in accordance with contemporary knowledge, production technologies and innovative materials. Even the revolutionary ceramic technology advancements by NASA contributed to the realisation of this exceptional outdoor cooking appliance: the Big Green Egg.

THE SECRET BEHIND THE BIG GREEN EGG

The Japanese, the Americans, the Europeans: everyone who tastes dishes prepared on a Big Green Egg is forever a fan due to the unparalleled great taste. What is the secret behind the EGG? It is actually a combination of several things. It is the ceramic that reflects the heat, generating an airflow that makes the ingredients and dishes exceptionally tender. It is the perfect circulation of air, which ensures that food cooks evenly and at just the right temperature. And it is the fact that the temperature can be controlled and maintained down to the finest degree. As a result of the high-quality heat-insulating ceramic, even external temperatures do not affect the temperature inside the EGG. And – last but not least - its spectacular appearance!

LIFELONG QUALITY

At Big Green Egg we fully support our product. Which is why we give consumers a lifetime guarantee on the materials and structure of all the ceramic parts of the EGG. It is made of a very high-quality ceramic material. This material has exceptional insulating properties and makes the EGG, in combination with its various patented parts, quite unique. The ceramic can withstand extreme temperatures and temperature fluctuations. You can really use your EGG numerous times without any loss in quality. So it’s really not that strange that we, the entire company, stand behind our EGGs.

LID WITH CHIMNEY
A ceramic dome with chimney that can be opened and closed easily because of the spring mechanism. The ceramic material features a protective glazed coating. The insulating, heat retaining properties of the ceramic material create a flow of air within the EGG, ensuring that dishes are cooked evenly and tastefully.

FIRE RING
Stacks on top of the fire box, providing the shelf for the heat diffuser and cooking grids.

FIRE BOX
The fire box rests in the ceramic base and must be filled with charcoal. Since the fire box is equipped with sophisticated openings and works with the vents at the bottom of the EGG, the air flow is constant and optimal when the REGULATOR and draft door are open.

BASE
Heavy duty insulated ceramics. Glaze prevents chipping and fading.

REGULATOR
Adjust to regulate air flow and precisely control temperature.

TEMPERATURE GAUGE
Saves precise internal temperature readings Monitor cooking progress without opening the EGG.

STAINLESS STEEL GRID
The Stainless Steel Grid is used as the primary cooking surface for grilling and roasting.

DRAFT DOOR
Works in combination with the REGULATOR, regulating the inbound air supply to control temperature. Also enables easy removal of ash.

GRATE
Sits inside the fire box. Perforated to allow air flow up through the EGG and any ash to drop down, for easy removal after cooking.

Solid quality. Superior ceramics.
At first glance, there seems to be little difference between this Big Green Egg and the model that we introduced in 1974. However, appearances are deceptive. Since then we have implemented quite a number of technological innovations, and we will continue to do so. Because we not only want to be the best kamado today but also in the future.

You and Big Green Egg; it’s a match!

As a foodie there’s one thing you know for certain: with a Big Green Egg you’ll bring the premium quality kamado into your home (oh well, in your garden or on your terrace or balcony). In addition to grilling, the Big Green Egg is perfect for baking, smoking, steaming and (slow) cooking. Because an EGG is more than just a barbecue, it is a complete outdoor kitchen in which you can bake pizzas, smoke fish, slow-cook meat and do all sorts of things you can also do in a regular oven. The culinary possibilities of the Big Green Egg are limitless. So, the question is not why you want an EGG, but which of the 7 models suits you best. For this reason we have given a brief description of the models. Discover for yourself that there is always a matching EGG, no matter how small or big your family, your circle of friends, and your garden (or terrace) may be!

The essential Big Green Egg collection:

An easy start

Especially for the novice EGGer, we have compiled a starter pack containing the most important basics. This also takes care of your birthday wish list.

2XL

Large, larger, largest. The Big Green Egg 2XL is the biggest member of the Big Green Egg family and the largest kamado available on the market. Everything about this model is impressive: the weight, the size, the height and the cooking surface. The 2XL is an eye catcher in each and every way. And with a performance to match. With the aid of an IntEGGrated Nest+Handler the 2XL can still be easily moved. And thanks to a clever hinge mechanism it is also easy to open the EGG. Magnanimous in size and culinary possibilities, but without putting on airs.

Do you have a big family and/or group of friends? Do you cook professionally? Or do you do the catering for large groups? Then the Big Green Egg XLarge is your perfect partner in crime. It will enable you to serve tasty cooked ingredients and dishes to loads of people simultaneously. With a cooking surface of 6.1 centimetres, big chunks of meat, fish or several pizzas are no longer a fantasy but a reality. And if 6.1 centimetres is just a tad too small? Just expand the cooking surface with the 5-Piece EGGSpander Kit and raise the level of your cooking.

Large

The Big Green Egg Large is the most popular model of the Big Green Egg family. You can easily prepare all your favourite dishes and those of your family and friends on the cooking surface of the Large - all at the same time if need be, because the Large provides enough space to cook for 8 people. And with all that available space it is also very easy to prepare all-inclusive three-course menus. Do you want to get the maximum out of your EGG? Then the Large would be a perfect match for you as it is the model with the most matching accessories. Which is why this all-rounder was given the name Large, as the possibilities are extensive.

The Big Green Egg Medium is sufficiently compact to fit a small city garden, a patio or a balcony, and yet it is big enough to grill, smoke, stew or bake for 6 to 8 people. With a Medium in your garden, you can very easily invite your family or friends to enjoy great food together. This is one of the reasons why this EGG is one of our most popular models. With the matching convEGGtor and Baking Stone, you can immediately convert the Big Green Egg Medium into a pizza oven in which you can bake the best pizzas ever. It may be a Medium, but it is certainly not average!

The Big Green Egg MiniMax is the smallest and lightest member of the Big Green Egg family. It is ideal for camping or to take on a boat trip or picnic. Or just use it at home, on your table. But let’s be frank here; once you have acquired this EGG model, you’ll probably want to take it everywhere you go. Thanks to its weight the Mini is very easy to carry. And even easier to carry if you purchase an EGG carrier for your Mini. Do you usually cook for 2 to 4 people? Then this travel-friendly lightweight would be your ideal Big Green Egg model.

Mini
Do only those that have a garden enjoy the privilege of outdoor cooking? Absolutely not! The Big Green Egg Small is the favourite housemate of city folk with a balcony or small patio. The Small may be compact, but you can easily cook meals that are out of this world for 4 to 6 people. As the grid of the Small is placed lower than that of the MiniMax, the Small is more suitable for larger preparations, even though the cooking surface of both is the same. The Big Green Egg Small may be small, but its performance is big!

THE VERSATILITY OF A BIG GREEN EGG...

The Big Green Egg has a temperature range of 70°C - 350°C, so you can try out all kinds of cooking techniques. Grilling, smoking, stir frying, steaming, baking or slow-cooking; it’s a piece of cake on your Big Green Egg. From grilled T-bone steak or ribeye, to a vegetarian curry and Madrilenian stew. Get cooking with steamed oysters, straw-smoked carpaccio, Asian chicken soup or a well-filled vegetable quiche. Nothing is too outlandish! And then of course it's tasting time... Pure and honest flavours with an unrivalled, characteristic aroma and taste. With a Big Green Egg, a new world will open up for you. Push your culinary boundaries and surprise yourself and your guests. Let your creativity flow, and enjoy!

...ALL YEAR ROUND!

Whether it’s freezing cold or a real scorcher; the EGG is for every season, all year round. If you think barbecuing’s just for summer; think again! That’s all changing thanks to Big Green Egg. After all, why would you only enjoy your kamado for a few months when you can use it 365 days a year? The unique, insulating ceramic means the weather outside is irrelevant. The temperature in the EGG is as stable as ever, and it couldn’t give a hoot about rain or snow.

ENJOYING THE ULTIMATE TASTE EXPERIENCE TOGETHER

A Big Green Egg will last you a lifetime; you can continue to endlessly vary your ingredients and dishes with a particularly tasty result. Enjoying the good life together – that’s what the Big Green Egg is all about. Surrounded by family, friends and loved ones, and the most delicious dishes you’ve ever tasted; that’s what unforgettable moments are made of. Preparing your favourite recipes or creating new dishes on your EGG. The possibilities are endless; try them all out and give your creativity free reign. Bring on that juicy entrecote, that gorgeous piece of fish with a salty crust, hearty stew, crusty bread and pizzas with the perfect crust, or that mouth-wateringly delicious dessert. What are you going to prepare first?

Let’s get started... baking pizzas!

Pizza Margherita

Amount: 2 pizza’s (Ø 25-30 cm)

INGREDIENTS

DOUGH BASE
250 g flour (preferably type '00') + extra for sprinkling
25 g fresh yeast, or 8 g dry yeast
150 ml lukewarm water
1 tbsp olive oil + extra for greasing
1 tsp sugar

TOMATO SAUCE
1 small clove of garlic
5 basil leaves
3 tbsp olive oil
1 tin of tomato cubes (400 g)

TOPPING
2 balls of mozzarella of 125 g each
10 fresh basil leaves
2 tbsp extra virgin olive oil

ACCESSORIES
convEGGtor
Baking Stone
Aluminium Pizza Peel
Compact Pizza Cutter

PREPARATION IN ADVANCE
1. For the bases, mix the flour with a pinch of salt in a bowl. Dissolve the yeast in one third of the lukewarm water and add this to the flour. Add the rest of the water and mix in the olive oil and the sugar. Knead the dough thoroughly for at least 5 minutes. This is easier with a mixer or in a food processor.

2. Tip the dough onto your worktop and knead it by hand for another minute. Grease a bowl, shape the dough into a nice ball and put it in the bowl. Cover the bowl with a clean, damp tea towel and leave the dough to rise for 2 hours.

3. In the meantime, peel the garlic for the tomato sauce and chop it finely. Chop the basil leaves finely. Heat the olive oil in a saucepan. Add the remaining sauce ingredients and season to taste with salt and black pepper. Bring to the boil, reduce to a low heat and leave to simmer gently for 5 minutes. Purée the sauce with a hand blender and spoon it into a bowl.

PREPARATION
1. Ignite the charcoal in the Big Green Egg and heat with the convEGGtor, the grid and the Baking Stone to 275-300°C. In the meantime, divide the dough into 2 equal portions and roll them into 2 balls. Dust the kitchen counter with flour and thinly roll out the first ball of dough on the mat with a rolling pin.

2. Dust the Aluminium Pizza Peel with flour and place the pizza base on it. Using a ladle, spoon half of the tomato sauce in the middle of the base and spread it towards the edge using the round underside of the ladle. Leave a small space between the sauce and the outer edge. Tear 1 mozzarella ball into pieces and divide over the pizza.

3. Dust the Baking Stone with flour. Use the Pizza Peel to slide the pizza onto the Baking Stone, close the lid of the EGG and bake the pizza for about 5 minutes until done. In the meantime, roll out the second ball of dough and add the ingredients in the same manner.

4. Remove the pizza from the EGG. Distribute half of the basil over the pizza and sprinkle with half of the olive oil. Cut the pizza into slices using the Compact Pizza Cutter. Bake the second pizza in the same way.

Tip: why not also try baking bread, cakes or brownies. The possibilities are endless!
Let’s get started with... grilling on cast iron

The perfect grill marks: on three different levels

Back to basic grilling:
the easy way with the cast-iron grid placed on the fire ring. Ensure the signature grill marks and malaud reactions (protein caramelisation) by giving your food a quarter turn on the grid.

Short and sharp grilling:
as low as possible in your EGG, right above the blazing charcoal. Also known as cowboy-style grilling. Place the Multi-Level Rack from the 5-piece EGGspander Kit at the very bottom of your EGG with a cast-iron grid for the MiniMax.

Grilling at great height:
and keeping your food in contact with the grill for longer. Create more space between the charcoal and your product with the grid on the basket, so you can grill your thicker pieces of meat for longer. The heat from the cast iron continues providing the same grill effect.

The perfect grill marks:
on three different levels

Grilled whole bavette

INGREDIENTS
1 bavette of approx. 1.5 kg
HERB OIL
1 white onion
3 sprigs of sage
3 sprigs of oregano
3 sprigs of rosemary
200 ml olive oil
ACCESSORIES
Cast Iron Grid
Instant Read Digital Thermometer

PREPARATION IN ADVANCE
1. Place the Cast Iron Grid in the Big Green Egg, ignite the charcoal and heat to 250°C.
2. In the meantime, remove the membrane from the flat side of the bavette. To do this, put your knife under the membrane, grab the membrane and cut up along the membrane while holding your knife against it. Remove the thin sides of the bavette. Later on, you can grill them very briefly on both sides and eat them.
3. For the herb oil, peel and chop the white onion. Pick the leaves from the sage and the oregano and the needles from the rosemary, and finely chop. Mix the onion and the herbs with the olive oil.

PREPARATION
1. Place the bavette on the grid and grill for about 2 minutes. Turn ninety degrees and grill for another 2 minutes to create a nice grill pattern.
2. Flip the bavette and grill the other side for 2 x 2 minutes as well. A core temperature of 53°C will cook your steak medium-rare. You can measure the temperature using the Instant Read Digital Thermometer. Pack the bavette loosely in aluminium foil and leave to rest for approx. 6 minutes.
3. Sprinkle the bavette with salt and pepper and cut into steaks or slices. Serve the herb oil on or with the meat.

Tip: the cast iron grid is a real must have for enhancing your ingredients’ flavours, colours and aromas.
Pad Thai with Chicken

INGREDIENTS

PAD THAI
- 400 g rice noodles (5 mm)
- 400 g chicken thigh fillet
- 100 g shiitake mushrooms
- 1 red bell pepper
- 3 spring onions
- 3 cloves of garlic
- coriander to taste
- 4 eggs
- 1 red Spanish chilli pepper
- 6 tbsp sunflower oil
- 1 tsp yellow curry paste
- 125 g bean sprouts

SAUCE
- 2 tbsp sweet chilli sauce
- 2 tbsp fish sauce
- 2 tbsp ginger syrup
- 2 tbsp purified tamarind (assem)

ACCESSORIES
- 1-piece convEGGtor basket
- Carbon Steel Grill Wok

PREPARATION IN ADVANCE
1. Light the charcoal in the Big Green Egg and heat up to 230-240 °C.
2. In the meantime, cook the rice noodles according to the instructions on the package.

PREPARATION
1. Place the Carbon Steel Grill Wok in the convEGGtor Basket and place it in the EGG. Wait about 5 minutes until the wok is thoroughly hot.
2. Pour 4 tablespoons of the sunflower oil into the hot wok and add the chicken strips. Stir fry these for a few minutes and mix in the curry paste when the chicken starts to colour. Stir fry for another few minutes until the aroma from the curry paste is released.
3. Add the shiitake, bell pepper, onion and garlic. Add all of the ingredients for the pad thai sauce to the chicken mixture and mix thoroughly.
4. Stir the noodles through the chicken mixture and add salt and pepper to taste. Move the pad thai to one side of the wok. Sprinkle the rest of the sunflower oil on the empty side in the wok. Pour in and stir-fry the beaten egg.
5. Stir the fried egg through the pad thai, check whether the noodles are hot and scoop the pad thai into a bowl. Stir-fry the bean sprouts for another few seconds in the wok and stir them through the pad thai.
6. Garnish the Pad Thai with the chilli pepper and the spring onion.

Let’s get started with... stir frying

Preparation & garnishing:
- Season the wok with kitchen paper and a drop of oil. For best results, your wok should be extra hot. That means you should blend the rest of the oil with your product, or add the oil and your product to the wok at the same time, to prevent the oil from burning.

Tip:
- Place the Carbon Steel Grill Wok in the convEGGtor Basket, and your EGG is all set for a new cooking technique in no time. A dash of oil, fantastic high temperatures and the freshest ingredients; you’ll soon fit in at any foodie market. Keep the dome closed as much as possible: the airflow in your kamado will provide a uniform and delicious cook.

Your EGG is ideal for wok action!
Let’s get started with... cooking sessions lasting hours

Tip: for the best smoky results, select Wood Chips for short smoking times, and the larger Wood Chunks for longer sessions. If you’d like to know about smoking, see page 36.

INGREDIENTS
1 kg pork belly without rind
2 tbsp garlic puree
sea salt
½ bunch thyme
½ sprig rosemary
6-8 bay leaves

ACCESSORIES
convEGGtor
Dual Probe Remote Thermometer

PREPARATION IN ADVANCE
1. Score the fatty side of the pork belly crosswise. Score the meat side crosswise as well, as this will allow the meat to absorb the flavours. Rub the pork belly on both sides with the garlic puree and sprinkle generously with sea salt. Place half of the thyme, rosemary and bay leaves on the fat side and half on the meat side. Cover and leave to marinate in the refrigerator for one night.

PREPARATION
1. Take the pork belly from the fridge. Slide the air regulator underneath the ceramic base fully open, divide three fire starters on the charcoal and light them. Leave the lid of the EGG open for 10-12 minutes. In the meantime, rub the seasoning on the meat side of the belly and partly on the fat side. By leaving a little of the seasoning on the fat during cooking, the fat and therefore the meat will get extra flavour.

2. Position the convEGGtor and lay the Stainless Steel Grid in the Big Green Egg. Lay the pork belly with the fat side up on the grid, as this will allow the tasty fat to be drawn into the meat and baste itself during cooking. Moreover, very little fat drips on the convEGGtor, which would otherwise create lots of smoke. Close the EGG’s lid and increase the temperature to 100°C. Leave the pork belly to cook for about 3 hours until the meat reaches an internal temperature of at least 77 °C. This can be measured with the Dual Probe Remote Thermometer or Instant Read Thermometer.

3. Remove the pork belly from the EGG when the core temperature has been reached. You can cut and serve it in thin slices or opt to grill the slices at a temperature of 230 °C (without the convEGGtor) about one minute per side. You can also cool down the pork belly (and store it covered in the refrigerator), cut it into slices and then grill it the next day. Or eat the slow cooked pork belly one day and grill the leftover slices the following day.

The preparation is simple, let time do all the work, and the amazing results will astound you. But what’s the ideal setting? You can opt for slow cooking with convEGGtor, or place two Half convEGGtor Stones in the convEGGtor Basket. The difference is down to the size of the indirect surface you create, and the corresponding temperatures:

| convEGGtor Basket + 2x Half convEGGtor Stone = 70°C – 180°C |
| convEGGtor (with or without convEGGtor Basket) = 80°C – 350 °C |

Low and slow: at what setting?
Let’s get started with... even more cooking techniques

Try them all out, and give your creativity free reign.

Indirect grilling
Grilling a highway chicken on the skin without turning from start to finish, or delicate ingredients such as vegetables, but still with gorgeous grill marks? With indirect grilling, you have maximum contact with the cast-iron grid, and you ensure your product’s proteins caramelise more slowly.

Multi Zone Cooking
Grilling a large piece of meat and then letting it cook even longer indirectly. Or serve a large number of burgers all at once in the blink of an eye. Chef’s tip: grill your saté directly and have the skewers rest in the indirect section.

Indirect roasting at high temperature
A salted ham or roast pork fillet. Give them a wonderful roasted flavour with the Stainless Steel Grid and the convEGGtor at a high temperature, without burning the product. The hot air in the EGG colours your product to perfection.

Stewing
Tip: First, grill your product on the Cast Iron Grid for extra roasting flavour, and then allow it to stew in the Dutch Oven. Keep the pan lid off during stewing. That way, the closed Big Green Egg grants your dish maximum flavour.

Selection of cooking techniques.

- Multi-Zone (direct en indirect) cooking
  - The EGGspander makes it possible to cook direct and indirect at the same time.

- convEGGtor Basket
  - Facilitates easy and convenient placement and removal of the convEGGtor. The basket also holds the Carbon Steel Wok for the best wok dishes.

- Multi-level cooking
  - Offers expanded cooking capacity when cooking several foods at once or when cooking for large groups. The top cooking grid slides back for easy access for your food.

- Cowboy grilling
  - The 2-Piece Multi-Level Rack reverses for direct “Cowboy style” grilling just above the charcoal with a Cast Iron Grid for the MiniMax. This set-up is only possible for the Big Green Egg Large.

- Low & Slow
  - Use the 5-Piece EGGspander Kit with two half convEGGtor stones for the perfect low & slow preparations. Long hours on a low temperature for the best results.

- Pizza & Baking
  - Turn your EGG into a pizza oven for the best pizza with the convEGGtor and a Baking Stone. Use the Multi Level Rack to expand your baking.
Every Big Green Egg deserves the best accommodation. This is to protect it, to move it safely if necessary, and to get the most out of it. Once you have chosen the model that suits you, you can start building. Transform your EGG into the perfect outdoor kitchen by giving it a solid base, including workspace and storage space.

Portable Nest
If you’re going camping to a park or a beach party, there’s no reason not to do that in style. Simply take your MiniMax with you in its portable nest. Simply unfold and your multifunctional outdoor cooking appliance will stand at a comfortable cooking height (the base is 60 cm). Done EGGing? Simply fold up and go!

Table Nest
When using a Table Nest you are literally placing the Big Green Egg on a pedestal. It was specifically designed to support your EGG and to protect your table or self-built outdoor kitchen against the release of heat by providing adequate airflow beneath the EGG. An EGG should never be placed directly on a wood surface.

Big Green Egg Charcoal: Choose your flavour

The key to success for a tasty dish and the basis for your cooking session is using the best-quality charcoal. While the result partly depends on the type of charcoal used, one thing is certain: the flavour of charcoal-cooked ingredients is unparalleled.

Big Green Egg charcoal is FSC certified, 100% natural charcoal, and originates from beech and hornbeam. This type of wood ensures a neutral basis so for every new cooking session, you can create your very own ideal taste concoction. This might include extra smoky flavour, a touch of hickory, cherries, apple or pecan. Adding Big Green Egg Wood Chips or Chunks means whatever flavour you choose, you’ll always put an astounding dish on the table.

The 100% natural charcoal (free from chemical ingredients, aromas and flavourings) is produced in Europe from wood residues or trees specially cultivated in sustainably managed forests. For each tree felled, a new one is planted in its place. The extra-large pieces burn slowly, create no unnecessary smoke and – unlike many other types of charcoal – remarkably little ash. This fantastic pure hardwood has a wonderfully long burning time. That’s good when your pulled pork is slowly cooking.

100% Natural Charcoal
Every cooking session starts with the right fuel. Our 100% natural charcoal with FSC quality mark is exactly what you need. This Big Green Egg charcoal comes from beech and hornbeam, and has an extremely long burning time. For an extra smoky touch, add Big Green Egg Wood Chips or Chunks to your charcoal, to taste.

Big Green Egg Charcoal comes in 9 and 4.5 kilo bags. The charcoal in the 4.5 kilo bags is slightly smaller. Making it perfect for use in smaller EGG models.

The technique of smoking takes Big Green EGGing into a totally new dimension. Once you’ve tasted that characteristic smoky and lightly wooded flavour, you’ll be a fan for life. With the aid of a few tools you will quickly master smoking. Opt for Wooden Grilling Planks to place your ingredients on. First soak the cedar or alder plank in water, before placing it in your EGG. The heat combined with the moisture is what creates the smoky effect. Add an extra touch to your dishes by using the original Wood Chips. Mix the (soaked) wood chips into your charcoal or sprinkle a handful over it. Dependent on the dishes you prepare, you can opt for either hickory, pecan, apple or cherry. New to our assortment are the 100% natural Wood Chunks. These sturdy wood chunks have been extensively tested and approved by top chefs. Thanks to their size they are highly suited for the longer low and slow sessions. Opt for Apple, Hickory or Mesquite and move to the next gastronomic level.

Wood Chips
Each Big Green Egg chef has his own style. Give all your dishes a characteristic smoky flavour using the original Wood Chips. Mix the (soaked) wood chips into your charcoal or sprinkle a handful over it. Or do both, it’s all a matter of taste. The same applies to the type of Wood Chips you may choose: hickory, pecan, apple or cherry. The Wood Chips are ideal for short smoke preparations.

Wood Chunks
Extensively tested by Big Green Egg chefs. This premium range of 100% natural Wood Chunks is perfect for smoking and will continue to add a delightful aroma and rich flavour for quite some time. Opt for apple, hickory or mesquite and add a new and tasteful dimension to everything you prepare on the Big Green Egg. The Wood Chunks are perfect for long low and slow sessions.

Wooden Grilling Planks
By using our Wooden Grilling Planks you can raise your cooking to the next level. Place the ingredients on the (water soaked) plank and then lay the plank on the grid of the Big Green Egg. The moisture will create a smoky effect. You can choose from cedar or alder wood Grilling Planks, each of which adds its own particular flavour. The Wooden Grilling Planks can be used several times.

Apple Cherry Pecan Hickory Mesquite
Beef, seasoned pork and game. Often used for pulled pork and brisket.

Tip: combine Big Green Egg 100% natural charcoal to your own taste with wood chips and chunks. The neutral pieces of charcoal mean creating a different taste twist each cooking session couldn’t be easier.
For 10 bonbons

INGREDIENTS

- 400 g skinless salmon fillet (loin)
- 2 spring onions
- 1 red Spanish chilli pepper
- 1/3 lime
- 1 tsp wasabi paste
- 100 ml Tomasu soy sauce
- 2 sprigs of coriander
- 10 slices of pickled ginger (gari, toko)
- 1 tbsp kewpie mayonnaise (toko)

ACCESSORIES

- Wooden Grilling Plank (cedar)
- Instant Read Digital Thermometer

PREPARATION IN ADVANCE

1. Cut the salmon fillet into 10 similar-sized cubes. Cut the spring onions into thin rings. Remove the stem and seeds from the chilli pepper and cut the flesh into thin rings. Cut the lime into slices. Remove the leaves from 1 coriander sprig and chop them finely.

2. For the marinade, mix the soy sauce and the wasabi paste. Keep 10 rings of the spring onion and the chilli pepper separate (keep these in the fridge) and mix the rest with the lime slices and finely chopped coriander through the marinade. Roll the salmon cubes through the mix and leave them to marinate in the fridge for 2 hours.

PREPARATION

1. Soak the Wooden Grilling Plank in plenty of water for 30 minutes. Light the charcoal in the Big Green Egg and bring, with the grid, to a temperature of 170 °C.

2. Dab the grilling plank dry and put the salmon cubes on it. Place the plank on the grid and close the lid of the EGG. Let the salmon smoke for 8-10 minutes until it has reached a core temperature of 55 °C; you can measure this with the Instant read Digital Thermometer. Meanwhile, remove the leaves from the second sprig of coriander and cut them into thin strips, Drain the slices of ginger.

3. Remove the grilling plank from the EGG and squirt the mayonnaise over the salmon. Garnish with the chilli pepper, spring onion, pickled ginger and coriander.

Wooden grilling planks: two ways of using them

- Cooking & steaming: place the soaked planks with your product onto the grid. The released steam means your ingredient absorbs the sweet cedarwood flavour.

- Smoking & roasting: allow the soaked plank to dry on your grid and then place your ingredient. The cedarwood will singe on the bottom, giving your food a smoky flavour.

Tip: the grill plank is also great for combining with fruit, mushrooms, duck breast or other types of fish.
Everybody knows Cesar Zuiderwijk as the drummer of Golden Earring, the legendary Dutch band of international repute. What many people don’t know is that he is also a very good cook. And whenever possible, he cooks on the Big Green Egg.
Despite the fact that his mother’s five brothers were all greengrocers, he didn’t get his love of food from home. “There was always plenty of soggy, boiled vegetables,” jokes Cesar Zuiderwijk. “My mother never got any further than basic cookbooks. Hang on, I still have one somewhere”. And Zuiderwijk turns out to be quite a collector, owning hundreds of cookery books.

Cesar’s Evergreens.

Cooking Lessons at Golden Duck
Don’t call it a passion; Cesar isn’t a man for grand words. He sees cooking primarily as a practical activity: “I just want to eat good food and standing in the kitchen should be fun.” But according to friend and Michelin-starred chef Henk Savelberg, Cesar is particularly good at it, especially when it comes to cooking on the Big Green Egg. His devotion to good food was fuelled by the birth of son Casper 35 years ago. “Until then, I made music and hung out in bars. But ever since I became a father, I’ve paid attention to healthy food. I’d buy fruit and vegetables at organic markets and set to work with them.” Spicy cuisine is his favourite: Indian, Indonesian, South American - also preparing these dishes himself. “In the 1970s, on tour with Golden Earring, I discovered Golden Duck, a Chinese restaurant in London, which soon became my favourite and remained so when I went to live there. Back in the Netherlands, a Golden Duck opened in Scheveningen, with the same menu and the same interior. I soon found out that the same chef worked there and immediately asked him to give me and a few friends cooking lessons.” Cesar pulls out the menu, and starts reading out loud with delight: “Pancakes with duck filling, sesame prawn fingers, drunken fish in white wine. I learned to cook the whole menu. It was a mix of Beijing, Canton and Szechuan styles. Look, wan tan soup – it’s making my mouth water.”

A band of Gourmets
The other musicians in Golden Earring are gourmets, too, apparently. “George (Kooymans, the guitarist, ed.) is a good cook and the four of us have gone for dinner together countless times. Once we were on a long tour all over the US as support act for The Who. We’d be finished early and go out to dinner. We’d always immediately check in the local phone book to see if there was a Benihana, which is a chain of Japanese restaurants. Sashimi, sushi, grill plates - we were unfamiliar with those concepts in the Netherlands back then. People often think that musicians only eat junk food, but nothing could be further from the truth.” Zuiderwijk first met Henk Savelberg twenty years ago. He took cooking lessons with him, too, and they are both still members of a cooking club. “I think all his fish dishes are fantastic. As it happens, I made his bouillabaisse just yesterday.”

Dukkah and litres of Piccalilli
The garden of his house in Baarle-Nassau, on the border with Belgium, is his Big Green Egg domain. He has to count how many he has. “Um, a Minimax, a Large and an XL in Baarle, and at our flat in The Hague there is a Small on the terrace and another Mini in the basement. I soon found out that the same chef worked there and immediately asked him to give me and a few friends cooking lessons.” Cesar pulls out the menu, and starts reading out loud with delight: “Pancakes with duck filling, sesame prawn fingers, drunken fish in white wine. I learned to cook the whole menu. It was a mix of Beijing, Canton and Szechuan styles. Look, wan tan soup – it’s making my mouth water.”

Cesar’s Evergreens.
It was five years ago that Henk Savelberg made the big move. In the great metropolis of Bangkok, he opened a new venture where he cooked following his tried-and-tested recipe: luxury, French, and with Dutch produce. Despite him reaching retirement age this summer, the Michelin chef has no intention of calling it a day.

After 40 years of cooking for various restaurants, he bid farewell to the Netherlands in 2014. Henk Savelberg had run his eponymous establishment in Voorburg for 25 years, witnessing the market for Michelin-starred restaurants decline. Already boasting four stars, Savelberg chose to embark on a new adventure in Thailand. He opened Savelberg Thailand in Bangkok embassy district. He took a couple of Dutch chefs with him, and his Big Green Eggs.

Cultural differences

In hindsight, he couldn’t have timed it better. “In the last few years, Bangkok has become a true culinary city. I arrived at precisely the ideal time. I was, of course, aware Michelin was planning on releasing an Asia guide. That meant I was keen on getting a star.” And so he did in the first red guide – Michelin Asia 2018 – Savelberg was presented the coveted award. He then saw the public’s interest in good food flourish. “At the outset, around half our guests were from Europe and the rest from Asia. The share of Asians is now much greater; most being from the rich Thai upper classes.” He soon got the hang of Asian restaurant culture. “The Thais are fantastic workers, but you have to be really nice to them, or they’ll simply walk out.” On how his restaurant’s guests behave: “They eat rather quickly, and spend the entire evening on their mobiles. Each dish is meticulously photographed, and they all want me in the photo too. They’ll often order a one-person, eight-course set menu between two people, and share everything. Bringing your own bottle of wine is also perfectly normal.”

Retirement age or not, Henk Savelberg is as ambitious as ever
French with Dutch produce
Gourmands now have 27 Michelin-starred restaurants to choose from in Bangkok. Five have clinched two stars, including the French-oriented Le Normandie at the Mandarin Oriental Hotel and Mezzaluna at LeBua, where chef Ryuki Kawasaki serves Japanese-French. Savelberg also uses French cuisine as his dishes’ starting point. “Plenty of veal and fish; they love that here. I’m currently trying sweetbreads: still unfamiliar here. All the fish such as sole, monkfish, langoustines and Dutch shrimps for the amuse-bouches come from Holland Vis.” Turbot, his signature dish with the characteristic grill marks, is obviously on the menu. “We buy vegetables at the local market. The quality and the range is getting better and better. We incorporate local varieties such as green mango into salads and sauces, and dress plates with edible tropical flowers.”

Grilling with Cesar
Henk Savelberg was already cooking with the Big Green Egg in Voorburg. His Thai kitchen has two of them: an XLarge and a Mini. A number of his dishes are cooked on them. “I always use it for langoustines. As well as poultry, for instance; such as organic chicken fillet, which first goes into the Planer at 56 degrees. I then briefly grill the chicken with not too much oil. The meat keeps its succulence. I’m good friends with Cesar Zuidervijk, the drummer from Golden Earring, we’re often busy on his EGGs. He grills all the time, and can cook to a good level.”

One more dream
Despite turning 67 this summer, Savelberg has no plans to stop working. “As long as I’m healthy, I’ll carry on; I just want to work. In Bangkok, that’s six days a week. On Sunday, I do a bit of sport and have a bite to eat somewhere. As well as that, I also work out twice a week with a personal trainer.” After five years with a restaurant next to a hotel in the embassy district, with the Dutch embassy as neighbours, he’s set to move to new surroundings in the Thai metropolis in the near future. It is there that Savelberg hopes to realise a huge dream: gaining a second star. “I think that would be wonderful.” He goes on to add laconically: “We’ll just have to see.”

Chef - Cas Spijkers
“Cas Spijkers was the Dutch Bocuse – a friend and a role model. I also think Martin Kruthoff of De Lindenhof is a fantastic chef.”

Wine – Burgundy
“A good bottle of Burgundy from Gevrey-Chambertin! I always ask the sommelier which I one I should have. I prefer drinking it with Bresse chicken or pigeon.”

Holiday destination – cruises
“I think cruises are a really comfortable way to travel. I prefer sailing on those large boats around the Mediterranean. It’s wonderful waking up in the morning and gazing out to sea. I think the best hotel chain is the Four Seasons; their hotel in Macau (China) was super deluxe and affordable.”

Chinatown
“Chinatown is where you really have to go to eat. This district is called Yaowarat. Bangkok has the largest Chinese community outside China. All those aromas, colours and flavours are fantastic. In the evenings, the streets transform into an open food market where all kinds of delicacies simmer away in huge pans.”

BEST OF BANGKOK
On his Sunday off, Henk Savelberg explores Bangkok and always goes somewhere for a bite to eat. He thinks these spots and local delicacies are not to be missed. With compliments from the chef.

Street food
“Bangkok is the Valhalla of street food. I think the tastiest thing must be the noodle soup. You can get it with beef, chicken or duck; it can be made in so many ways. I always ask Thais if they can season it to my taste. Although I think marinated pork belly is heavenly, I try to steer clear of it because it’s not really very good for you.”

Chinatown Market
“Many stations in the BTS – the Bangkok metro – have food courts with a bar and music. You can eat well in shopping malls, too. While they’re slightly more expensive, you’ll have more organic options. Chinatown Market is enormous, and there you find literally everything: from pets to porcelain. And it’s food section is good too.”

Clothing brand – Boss and Dr. Martens
“I swear by Boss, which fits great. Because I’m not keen on shopping, I tend to buy in bulk. For shoes, I’ve always had low-cut Dr. Martens. I’m on my feet for hours every day, so they have to be comfortable.”

Chef - Cas Spijkers
“Cas Spijkers was the Dutch Bocuse – a friend and a role model. I also think Martin Kruthoff of De Lindenhof is a fantastic chef.”

Wine – Burgundy
“A good bottle of Burgundy from Gevrey-Chambertin! I always ask the sommelier which I one I should have. I prefer drinking it with Bresse chicken or pigeon.”

Mode of transport – VanMoof bicycle
“Every year, I cycle around the Netherlands for a week, riding from restaurant to restaurant. In the past, I used to cycle up to 100 kilometres every Sunday. I have a VanMoof bike in The Hague. It’s an electric model, but you really can’t tell because everything is hidden away in the frame. I can actually lock it with my mobile phone.”

Chefs &
Big Green Egg
Made for each other

Wherever you find the Big Green Egg, one thing never changes. The warm welcome of top chefs, Michelin Star chefs, creative masterminds that became famous through innovative cooking and pushing the boundaries of what’s possible gastronomically. They discovered that preparing the loveliest of fresh (seasonal) ingredients on the EGG resulted in an additional component; the characteristic EGG flavour. The combination of progressive creations and the wide arsenal of cooking techniques that the EGG has to offer appears to be a winning combination. Big Green Egg was made big by our ambassadors. Michelin Star chefs such as Jonnie Boer have (literally) put us on the map and given foodies the opportunity to also discover that unique Big Green Egg flavour. For that reason alone, top chefs deserve a star as far as we’re concerned.

convEGGtor®
The convEGGtor functions as a natural barrier between your dishes and the open fire of your Big Green Egg. The special design of the convEGGtor ensures a good air flow and excellent heat conductivity. The indirect heat that passes through the ceramic heat shield transforms your EGG into a fully fledged outdoor oven. This is ideal for low & slow cooking where ingredients are gently cooked at a low temperature.

Cast Iron Grid
Are you going grilling on your Big Green Egg? Then a Cast Iron Grid is indispensable! The only way to get those brilliant grill stripes or perfect grill pattern is by using a cast iron grid. This not only looks beautiful but also provides much more aroma, colour and taste in your ingredient. Cast iron absorbs heat more easily and quickly, retains it longer and releases it evenly to your product. In addition, it is a durable material that will last a lifetime and is extremely easy to maintain.

Half Cast Iron Grid
Are you a serious griller? Using the Half Cast Iron Grid, you can prepare salmon steaks, beef steaks and vegetables showing an enviable grill pattern. Perfectly seared on the outside, super tender on the inside. Half the cooking surface but all the taste.

- XLarge: 121233
- Large: 120786

Half convEGGtor Stone
The Half convEGGtor Stone is nothing if not versatile. It can be used as an intermediate layer together with the one-piece convEGGtor basket if you want to cook directly and indirectly at the same time, or it can be used as a complete convection shield by placing two next to each other.

EXACTLY THE RIGHT TEMPERATURE SECURES THE ULTIMATE FLAVOUR

Quick-Read Thermometer
Officially it is called the Big Green Egg Quick-Read Digital Food Thermometer. Which pretty much says it all. In a few seconds, it digitally reads the temperature of your leg of lamb or stuffed chicken. Accurate to the degree (up to 300°C!). Handy pocket size, and the handle serves as a storage case.

Dual Probe Remote Thermometer
Information is power. The wireless Dual Probe Remote Thermometer accurately measures the core temperature of your ingredients down to the finest degree, as well as the interior temperature of your Big Green Egg. The Dual Probe has 2 probes and a receiver that you keep with you. Once the desired temperature has been reached, the receiver will automatically alert you (up to a distance of 91 metres). Need a cheat sheet?
A number of average temperatures are listed below

Beef medium 52/54 °C
Lamb medium 60/62 °C
Venison medium 52/55 °C
Pork fillet 70 °C
Poultry 72/75 °C
Whitefish 65 °C
Salmon 50/52 °C

TIPS:
• Always measure at the thickest part of your meat or fish
• Be sure not to pierce the bone, as this temperature can differ
• Allow for a 2-3 °C core temperature increase when letting the meat rest after cooking

Instant Read Thermometer
Do you want your steak rare or medium? The Big Green Egg Instant Read Thermometer measures the core temperature so precisely that even medium rare is no longer a lucky guess. Because you don’t want too much heat escaping from your Big Green Egg, you can read the temperature (up to 232°C) within 3 to 4 seconds. And if you turn the Big Green Egg Instant Read Thermometer while you measure the temperature, the display will turn along with you. Useful, covetable pouch included.

Instant Read Thermometer with Bottle Opener
For an EGGer, timing is everything. This makes the Big Green Egg Instant Read Thermometer your (secret) weapon in the fight against under or overcooked ingredients. You’ll know the exact temperature of meat, fish or poultry within four seconds. How hot for the leg of lamb? Check the cheat sheet with the desired temperatures on the reverse. The degree of perfection has been achieved! Time for a well-deserved beer? This helpful tool also doubles as a bottle opener.

EGG Genius
This technical device controls and monitors the temperature of your EGG and sends it to your smartphone or tablet. In this way, you can enjoy some tasty binge watching on those cold winter days while slow cooking to the exact degree. The EGG Genius ensures a constant airflow, enabling you to continue to cook at a constant temperature. You will get a notification if the temperature in your EGG is either too high or too low and also when your cook is finished, ready for sitting down to eat. You can even inspect the statistics of your previous EGG sessions. The app accompanying the EGG Genius is in English.

Expand your EGG Genius with extra options:

After using your Big Green Egg intensively for a long time, the felt edges on the top rim of the ceramic base and the bottom of the ceramic lid with chimney will eventually become worn. Because this edge protects the ceramic and ensures perfect air circulation, it would be smart to replace it fairly regularly. You can easily do this yourself using this Gasket Kit. The felt roll is self-adhesive and attachment is self-explanatory.

Tel-Tru Temperature Gauge

A thermometer is included with each Big Green Egg. If it finally gives up the ghost after many years of use, you could order the Tel-Tru Temperature Gauge. Place the dome thermometer in the lid of your EGG and you will know how warm it is inside without having to open the lid and lose heat. The Tel-Tru Temperature Gauge is available in 2 sizes and displays temperatures that range from 50°C to 400°C.

The Big Green Egg Book
Each Big Green Egg foodie regards The Big Green Egg Book as his culinary bible. This tastefully composed book with a foreword by Dutch top chef Jonnie Boer describes all cooking techniques that can be applied in an EGG: baking, roasting, stewing, grilling, smoking and slow cooking. It covers both the basic preparations as well as the somewhat more challenging recipes that will inspire you to perform at your culinary best. English | 116680
